

The English Language

Space

A, B, C

The English language let me down

They say that we don't go together
But the sun comes up and we're still feeling fine
Some wish we were never born
Just because their curtains are all drawn on time

We're travellin' on false passports
And we've been caught
Caught committing crimes
Feels like God is everywhere
But seems like God is never by my side

All my words done fail me
Every lie derails me

This is the day that the English Language let me down
This is the day that the English Language let me down

All the golden boys and the golden girls
Know your enemies in a cutthroat town
We've come here from nowhere knowing there's nothing left
But music and our family
And it gets me down

We're travellin' on false passports
And we've been caught
Caught committing crimes
Feels like God is everywhere
But seems like God is never by my side

All my words done fail me
Every lie derails me

This is the day that the English Language let me down
This is the day that the English Language let me down

They say that we don't go together
But the sun comes up and we're still feeling fine
Some wish we were never born
Just because their curtains are all drawn on time

We're travelling on false passports
And we've been caught
Caught committing crimes
Feels like God is everywhere
But seems like God is never by my side

All my words done fail me
Every lie derails me

This is the day that the English Language let me down
This is the day that the English Language let me down

This is the day that the English Language let me down
This is the day that the English Language let me down