Nature of the Beast

Spandau Ballet

It is the key to all the doors It is the crashing on the shores

It lives in your steering wheel It hides in the wind and rain With voices as cold as steel It's calling your name

It is the smile upon his face It is the winning of the race

It lives in the red-alert It lives in the power game It's easy to take to heart But harder to tame

This is the nature of the beast (This is the nature) This is the nature of the beast (This is the nature) Without all this heat They'll be dancing west to east This is the nature of the beast

It is the glowing in his eyes It is the reason for his lies

Oh, how many know you're there Oh, how many play your game He's always the man to dare You're always to blame

It is the need to understand Oh, it is the trigger in his hand

It lives in the uniform It grows from the need to gain With faces so old and torn It's calling your name

This is the nature of the beast (This is the nature) This is the nature of the beast (This is the nature) Without all this heat They'll be dancing west to east This is the nature of the beast

It lives in the red-alert It lives in the power game It's easy to take to heart But harder to tame
