

High and Hazy

Sparks The Rescue

I need you like a vitamin
Soaking and masking
I want your rivers flowing
Through my veins
We can hide inside the wilderness
Yea where that wild exists
I'll be on all fours
Howling your name

I've been so high lately
Thinking that my lies could save me
Crashed through your bedroom door
Found me passed out on the floor

I'm so damn hazy

Yea I need you to believe in
Believe me I've got my demons
You can see my trail from state to state
Hold your love like a photograph
Keep you clean behind a piece of glass
Until I slip, trip, miss cut like a kiss yea

I've been so high lately
Thinking that my lies could save me
Crashed through your bedroom door
Found me passed out on the floor

It's in the way you move
It's hard to resist your groove
Could I use you once again
I think I'm addicted to
The drug that's inside of you
Crashing down on me again
It's nothing I'm proud to do
I need you 400 days a year
C'mon and let me in, yea

I've been so high lately
Thinking that my lies could save me
Crashed through your bedroom door
Found me passed out on the floor

And I've been so high lately
Thinking I could lie could save me
You know that I've been so high lately
Crash through your bedroom door
Found me passed out on the floor
Screaming love me baby
