

Water Your Heart (Safe, Sound, and Buried)

Sparks The Rescue

Left you defenseless
I waited up to steal everything and I took your thunder Brought it down on the street where it could ring
You screamed inside
'How could you do this'?
You're not the boy I knew Something has changed inside you Something has changed

My worst defenses
ain't my rockstar walk and my barstool talk Devised this plan to catch you Devised this plan but never followed through You said I never follow through

Listen doll water your heart
and let it grow
(There's a chance for some rain tonight
We can walk through the cemetery)
Listen doll water your heart
and let it grow
(Pull it out of your chest it's just right
In the ground it's safe sound buried)

It seemed vindictive
Your play on words this story hurts
Swear that you've changed
I'll take your two cents for all it's worth I used to know your body in the dark but now I'm tripping over all the other names you've dropped

Listen doll water your heart
and let it grow
(There's a chance for some rain tonight
We can walk through the cemetery)
Listen doll water your heart
and let it grow
(Pull it out of your chest it's just right
In the ground it's safe sound buried)

It's been a year now
Since you put me in my place
It's been a year now
And we still can't find our way
And there's nothing I could say
To change the way I've been It's been a year now and I still can't get you out of my head
