

Limo Driver (Welcome To Hollywood)

Sparks

Mr. Bergman, sir, welcome to our town
Hollywood is here for you, I got a feeling you will love our town.

Excuse me, where are we going? I am Ingmar Bergman! What am I doing here?

Lovely weather, sir. Like a little air? Maybe it's too warm for you,
I know you're used to really frigid air.

Excuse me, where are we going? I am Ingmar Bergman!
What am I doing here? I am Ingmar Bergman! I demand to know where we're going.

Have you ever seen Hollywood before? If it is your first time well
I, hope we're gonna see you lots lots more.

Listen, I am Ingmar Bergman! I demand to know where we're going!

Have a pleasant stay. Guess you travelled far. Here we are, the studio, I'll phone and tell them we're not very far.

"Yes we're passing through the studio gates right now. It won't be long."

Someone will be down. Take you right upstairs. Have a pleasant afternoon. I love your films, they have a foreign flair.
