

Give me life, give me faith, give me somethin' to see
Give me life, give me change, give me somewhere to be
Give me love, give me hate, tell me what to believe
I don't care who you're imitating
You think the world's beginning, in truth, it's really ending
My disillusioned mind is wastin' away
Until I break, until I bend
Until I fall back on my faith again
Until my world is caving in
Until I fall back on my faith again
Keep me dumb, keep me small, keep me closer to you
Keep it still, keep it all, keep away from the truth
Keep me here, keep me cool 'cause it's already done
Everything is so intimidating
You are the one reflection, created false rejection
I let you in and now you won't go away
Until I break, until I bend
Until I fall back on my faith again
Until my world is caving in
Until I fall back on my faith again
I think the end is closer now
You took the life inside me now
Is this the way you're checkin' out? Yea
You are the one who's running now
Running now
Running now
Running now
You are the one reflection, created false rejection
I let you in and now you won't go away
Until I break, until I bend
Until I fall back on my faith again
Until my world is caving in
Until I fall back on my faith again
Until I break
Until I break
Until I break
Until I break
Until I break
