

Turned Out Lies

Spirit of the West

I remember a promise for a new tomorrow
I remember a promise to save our youth
I remember security for our aging
But when you made the pudding
You left out all the proof
I seem to recall you mentioning the word hope
I seem to recall you mentioning solutions
You made it sound like an angel
Had landed on our doorstep
Then gave us more like two steps back
Than any evolution
Your empty promises are filling people's heads
You have us crawling round in circles
Instead of walking straight ahead
I remember what you passed for truth
It turned out lies
Yes I remember what you said
I made you a promise for a new tomorrow
I made you a promise to share our youth
I promised you security through our aging
But when I made the pudding love
I left out all the proof
I seem to recall you mentioning the word trust
You seem to recall you mentioning devotion
I made it sound like god's gift
Had landed on your doorstep
Then gave you more like two steps back
Than any evolution
My empty promises were filling up your head
I had us crawling round in circles
Instead of walking straight ahead
I remember what you took for truth
It turned out lies instead
Yes I remember what I said
Promise promise here's a little promise
Love and that I'll keep for sure
Love and that I'll keep for sure
Love and that I'll keep for sure
Love and that I'll keep for sure
I remember, I remember
I remember, I remember
I know you're through with broken promises
I know you're through with broken plans
And broken dreams
I know you're through with broken promises
I know you're through with broken promises
