

Going Nowhere

Spiritfall

I have nothing to say when i see your face
Force down your blame deep inside me
The worse that i get the more i regret
You in my life right now
You said was wrong but i know i was right
It's just too bad you can't see
A silence so deep get out of my sight
You got to close to me
I'm trying so hard to be stronger than you
But i'm going nowhere and i'm getting there fast
It's a game to you it's plain to see
A plain on emotion from you to me
A stab in the dark that went through my heart
And it's turning me inside out now
It happened again it hurts even more
Why do you do this to me
How can i show you it hurts much more
You got to close to me
