

No One Heard

Spiritual Beggars

You're waiting for salvation
- guess it never came to pass
Who helps you when you're searching
- you know that nothing lasts
Still you plead for absolution
- and you're buying all the lies
You think that Christ is waiting
- he was never there, never there

All your praying - it's all lies
All your kneeling - I spit in your eyes
The fate of betrayers - you got what you deserved
All your prayers - no one heard

Ignoring what's around you
- never heeding nature's call
Building temples and double standards
- watching wisdoms fall
Still you think you've been chosen
- hypocrisy standing tall
You think your God is waiting
- one eye laughs in his hall
