

The Doorway

Spock's Beard

I really don't care if you're not in my sight
I really don't think but I think I'm right
It don't bother me none if you're depressed or depraved
'Cause I'm not the one and you don't need to be saved
As the sunrise comes down the doorway
And the snow white falls like rain down an alley
I'll be sending my light your way
You are the doorway, you are the door
I really don't care if you lay it all down
I really don't mind if you switch off the sound
Put it in reverse we might sound better that way
Say what you want 'cause it's all okay
As the sunrise comes down the doorway
And the snow white falls like rain down an alley
I'll be sending my light your way
You are the doorway, you are the doorway
You are the door
What are you waiting for? What are you hoping will happen now?
Out of the sycamore darkness the dye was cast
Time has passed away, color in the world by numbers
Masked in fear, you can't hear me say
You are the doorway, you are the door
As the sunrise comes down the doorway
And the snow white falls like rain
I'll be sending myself your way
Don't you know you are the door?
I really don't care if you're not in my sight
I really don't think but I think I'm right
It don't bother me none if you're depressed or depraved
'Cause I'm not the one and you don't need to be saved
I really don't care if you twist or you shout
I really don't think what you think you're about
It don't bother me none if you shoot under par
'Cause I know what you have and I know what you are
As the sunrise comes down the doorway
And the snow white falls like rain down an alley
I'll be sending my life your way
You are the doorway, you are the doorway
You are the door, you are the door, you are door
