

I've been dreaming for so long
To see you smile right back at me
From where you are

I've been wishing for so long
To see you smile back at me
Like I'm somebody special

But as I aged and as I changed
I left it all behind
'Cause now your calls seem some kind of mellow

Will I run to you?
Even if I'm losing hours
Even if I'm losing hours of sleep
Today

I've been down too long
Yeah I know
I know 'cause the radio's been playing that same old song
That same old song

About this regular guy
With regular hopes
And regular dreams gone stale

'Coz he doesn't know where to go

We can find another break time to sit a talk a while I'll be your king and you'll be my queen
And we'll be dancing all night
But it's getting there, it's getting to me
And it's tearing me apart
'Cause I don't know where to go
