

The Book I Write

Spoon

I wanna open this heart
I want so much to be played
But both of us
We stay on our guard in the same way
And I know, it's just the book I write
All that we knew, just a clue
All that we was, just because
I never knew
I wanna trigger your heart
There's something else beside the silver we bought
Hey hey
And it's the book I write
I let it go so long
Another book I write
Oh, oh
All that we are, all we do
All that we are, all we do
Is here forever
All that we was, just because
All that we blew, just a clue
I never knew
This is the book I write
Oh, I let it go on so long
No, no
