Walk a Straight Line

I need some help, help to decide Whether its our love that steps out of time You say you need time on your own Time to accept how our love has grown

And when you think about All of the bad in me Think about this too How me and you could forever be

In need of help, help to expand With each others minds together to plan Time in our lives, time on our own So one day well see our love has grown

And when that day arrives I dont know where well be But I hope that trust can be for us And you'll still love me

I need some help, help to be found When you are alone I won't let you down We all need time, time on our own So we can step back and see how loves grown

And when I'm stepping back I hope that I will see That faith can play a part today For both you and me

And if love needs help And if love needs time Give love the strength To walk a straight line
