Club Limbo

Squirrel Nut Zippers

Before this evening draws to a close And you go home to homework. Before the moon goes down on lonely street I know a place where we can go, baby, Where you can find out just how low life can be. Has no one told you, you have a future, girl So bright and filled with promise

Has no one lead you down to Club Limbo. That's just the place for us to meet, baby, Where you can find out just how your life should be. The clock is ticking and you are picking Clothes, maybe to wear tomorrow You haven't met me yet...Soon you will Down at Club Limbo they still play Stardust Down at Club Limbo that's the place for love.
