Save Yourself

Stabbing Westward

I know your life is empty And you hate to face this world alone So you're searching for an angel Someone who can make you whole I can not save you I can't even save myself So just save yourself

I know that you've been damaged Your soul has suffered such abuse But I am not your savior I am just as fucked as you I am just as fucked as you I can not save you I can't even save myself So just save yourself

Please don't take pity on me Please don't take pity on me Please don't take pity on me Please don't take pity on me

My life has been a nightmare My soul is fractured to the bone And if I must be lonely, I think I'd rather be alone I think I'd rather be alone

You can not save me You can't even save yourself I can not save you I can't even save myself Save yourself So just save yourself
