Slipping Away

Stabbing Westward

I feel it slipping away I gave it all and no one cared I feel it slipping away

I feel it slipping away No more pain, no more fear I feel it slipping away

I just can't learn to forget Now I'm choking on the memories Choking on regret I tried but I can't find a way To untangle all the pieces After they've been thrown away

I will not suffer this loss Of you again and again and again I refuse to continue to live In this perpetual nightmare I decide it ends right here I feel it slipping I feel it slipping I feel it slipping Everything is slipping away
