

Beautiful Madness

Stabilo

I will go on. You take me to your land Time will go on. It breaks me, in your life

Say what you wanna say, any time of day,
but don't justify my truths
It's time for me to change, time for hope to bleed, time for love to sacrifice,

Oh and madness didn't change the fact that we fell apart
It could've been love
but we had a rough start
I could've held back,
but you were already there
You didn't have to wait, and I don't have to care.

Time will go on.
It breaks me in your life

Say what you wanna say, any time of day,
but don't justify my truths
It's time for me to change, time for hope
to bleed, time for love to sacrifice,

Oh and madness didn't change the fact that we fell apart
It could've been love

I could've held back
You didn't have to wait and I didn't have to care

Oh and madness didn't change the fact that we fell apart
It could've been love

I could've held back
And if you never look back you never quite care

But you caught my eye and stole a thousand teardrops You told me so many times.
But I can taste his blood
My hands are tied
The nails are in my pocket
This world was made for kings and queens and I alone
So tie me up and spike another coffee Bring out your dead alive wasted for the lines For the times I've walked for the times I talked

For the times alone, alone, alone

This beautiful madness, this glorious sadness
This time to share...
Na na na...
