

I want everything I see
I want you to want me
I want the water where you swim
I want to drown in it

I want your lust and favorite toys
And all the girls and the beautiful boys
Guardian angel when you sin
I want everywhere that you've been

Young and lonely
I want to be your one and only
Young and lonely
Enough is never quite enough for me

I want your clothing when you sweat
I want the rain that makes you wet
I want the drink that made you sick
I want to choke on it

Young and lonely
I want to be your one and only
Young and lonely
Enough is never quite enough

I want the road you travel on
I want the turn where we went wrong
I want the habit, you couldn't care
I want to be owned by it, owned by it

And the habit we couldn't kick, I'll be owned by it
And the habit we couldn't kick, I'll be owned by it
