

Sorry (is All I Can Say)

Stage Dolls

Yeah it cuts deep inside when it's over
And the look on your face tells it all
You were always the one that was waiting
Now I'm stuck with my back to the wall

Yeah I promised you gold-rings and roses
Handed to you in devil's disguise
You thought you were holding an angel
Now the truth lies in front of your eyes

So would you run if I told you I love you
Would you run if I asked you to stay
Would you cry if I said that I missed you
Sorry is all I can say

Girl, I've done you no good as a lover
Still haunted by old memories
And if the road that I take leads me nowhere
Then maybe that's where I want to be

Well I promised you gold-rings and roses
Gave to you all but my heart
I've looked in the eyes of an angel
And now I don't know where to start
