Crawl

I'm so lonely You're so beautiful Not the only One that's pitiful Scratched and torn I lay here in pieces Craving all of your deadly vices Like to think that I'm not addicted But I guess I wear it well And I crawl While you spit And I crawl Through you Here I am now Not a lot has changed Nothing' better Everything's the same Late at night I can hear your voices Talking shit about all my choices You would think you've known me forever Just because you know my name And I crawl While you spit And I crawl Through you Everything falls apart Everything... (3x) Everything falls apart Everything (3x) And I crawl While you spit And I crawl Through
