

Suffer

Staind

The more you see the more you do
The television's feeding you. With what
You want to hear, anger and fear, because you suffer

The hate you feel won't go away you're all programmed to Feel this way to live another day within a world
That loves to suffer

And then I come to find everything's O.K.
Seen this all before but that was yesterday.
I try to make it through the messes that I've made
So I can enjoy the life here that I've made

I've tried to give it all to you. Can't take anymore to do
With this. It hurts inside. I know why I hide 'cause
I suffer

I tried to keep it all inside
Didn't leave me too much pride
Forced it all down inside
Forced myself to make me suffer

And then I come to find everything's O.K.
Seen this all before but that was yesterday.
I try to walk right through the messes that I've Made so I can enjoy the life here that I've made

And then I come to find

And then I come to find everything's O.K.
Seen this all before, but that was yesterday.
I try walk right through these messes that I've made.
I just try to enjoy this life here that I have.
