

Take a Breath

Staind

You can take all the things you think I need
All i wear upon my sleeve
All the ways that you perceive I no longer need it

I know what it means
black and white Got what I need
and that's why..

You lead me on the edge of sanity
There's not much left, just take a breath
You paint me out as mediocrity
Put to the test, just take a breath

And me, I just take things as they come I stick around until it's done and I'm not your chosen one, but can you admit

I know what it means
black and white
Got what I need
and that's why...

You lead me on the edge of sanity
There's not much left, just take a breath
You paint me out as mediocrity
Put to the test, just take a breath

You can take all the things you think I need all the ways that you...

You lead me on the edge of sanity
There's not much left, just take a breath
You paint me out as mediocrity
Put to the test, just take a breath

I know what it means
Black and White!!!!
