

Everything Has Changed

Stanfour

The turning of the tide
The dimming of the light
When did you forget me

I'm reeling from the loss
Frozen on the cross
Nothing was explained

Oh but
Words won't help
Can't tell myself
That hearts don't change
The fire's turned to ice
The truth's all lies
Everything has changed

If I could write the book
I'd take just one last look
Let the colors fade

I'd reach into the sky
Pull down all the shades
I'd breathe in - I'd breath in sorrow there

But words won't help
Can't tell myself
That hearts don't change
The fire's turned to ice
The truth's all lies
Everything has changed

Words won't save
A heart gone astray
You won't change
I'm fighting for
A long lost cause
But you won't change
