

24 Hours

Star One

A crime-ridden city confined within these walls a place without pity a place of sin...

No rules apply here among this desperate crowd once you go in you are never coming out

You've got 24 hours to change the course of history just 24 hours, your time is running out!
You've got 24 hours
to trace our man and set him free our very last chance our fate is in your hands!

You're trapped on this island your life ticking away this hotbed of violence could be your grave...

you're on your own here no one to save your skin you better give up
'coz there is no way you can win

Too many died for an empty cause too many died all in vain too many died for your senseless laws count me out, I will never be a part of this game

too many died for your senseless laws
