You say, strength is found in weakness Peace in incompleteness So why do I hold on?

You look, For a heart that's open For beauty in the broken So why am I withdrawn?

[pre-chorus:]
My soul's screaming out
To be found in You

[chorus:]
Spirit draw me to my knees
Captivate all of me, all of me
Here before You honestly
Captivate all of me, all of me

I'm so messy and distracted Undisciplined and tactless Here on the inside

I thought age would tell the secrets But the secrets are still secret And the years are passing by

Teach me to wait in the moments of my need Teach me to hear the melodies of peace
