

Different as can be

Starkid

You won't sleep on your tummy
You won't sleep on your back We're quite a kooky couple you'll agree
We share some hands and fingers

And yet the feeling lingers We're just about as different as anyone could be

You like plotting a garden and I like plotting to kill
You think that you should rule the world, I think books are a thrill!
Sipping tea by the fires swell Pushing people in is fun as well
I like folding all my ties
And you have no friends, hey thats a surprise

I guess its plain to see when you look at you and me were different different as can be

Youre a sissy, a twat a girl! Im the darkest of lords!
Im the brightest professor here, Ive won several awards
My new world is about to unfold
You got beat by a two year Ill kill him this time through and through Or you might just give him another tattoo

You really must agree
when you look at you and me
were different
different as can-

Ill rise again and Ill rule the world
But you must help me renew
For when our plan succeeds Prevails!
Part of that world goes to you

When I rule the world Ill plant flowers
When I rule the world Ill have snakes And goblins, and werewolves, and giants, and thestrals, a fleet of dementors, and all my Death Eaters!
(QUIRRELL: And Jane Austin novels)

When I rule the world!! Hahahaha!!!!
