

Between Here And Now

Stars Go Dim

Everything changes
in a blink of a eye
stop believing we are children start living out our lives

Say goodbye to all we thought we knew and open our eyes
to a world filled with pain shattered dreams and broken hearts

Can't decide if we should carry on, cry or just give up lie to me and tell me what I see it's all just a bad dream when I awake
we're stuck in this place

we lost our innocence
we ask ourselves there must be more than this
to this life
to this world
every moment

It's in eyes of a mother who lost her only son it's in a face of a father who can't find a job
it's the moment when tragedy becomes reality
how much more can you take

Cause everybody needs resolution something more than holding on to illusions fake hope and lies bring only confusion hey yeah, hey yeah, hey yeah.

And everyone needs salvation someone save us from ourselves give us reason to live
in this life
when we hope so bad
lost inside

So don't you give up
give up give up

Keep on living this life yeah..keep holding on don't give up, give up, give up
