Rain town in the nighttime Endless yellow taxis Waiting for the moment When the party will end

Rain town in the nighttime
You still heard nothing from me
But I've become invisible so what message could I send?

Saturdays are lonely
And Sundays you're alone
Still checking for the signal
For the bars on the phone, phone, phone

You can travel for a thousand miles
You can spend a thousand nights alone
You can lose your way so easily and never ever make it home

So come out with me tonight, come out with me tonight No one falls in love under fluorescent light Come out with me tonight, come out with me tonight No one falls in love under fluorescent light

No one's getting older And nothing ever changes And I will never lose you And you'll never lose me

Just repeat that 'till I'm sleeping And then stay with me 'till morning And then I swear you can't erase me And then I swear I set you free

Why don't you love me anymore?

I watch you put your coat on
I hear you close the bedroom door
And then there's nothing but the memory of the dream I had that you don't lo ve me anymore

You can tell me we were born alone
You can say it wasn't meant to be
But if you wait until the lights come on there's so much that you'll never s ee

So come out with me tonight, come out with me tonight No one falls in love under fluorescent light Come out with me tonight, come out with me tonight No one falls in love under fluorescent light

3 A.M. and the lights go on and in the middle of the chorus they turn off our song
Everyone is wasted. Everyone's alive

Everyone is wasted, Everyone's alive We hail a yellow taxi and we drive, drive, drive

You can travel for a thousand miles
You can spend a thousand nights alone
You can lose your way so easily and never ever make it home

Never ever make it home

So come out with me tonight, come out with me tonight No one falls in love under fluorescent light Come out with me tonight, come out with me tonight No one falls in love under fluorescent light No one falls in love under fluorescent light