

International Rock Star

Stars

The whole of England must be searching for me. Well, sooner or later they're going to find me
Never, 'cause you see, they're looking for you, right? But nobody's looking for me

International rock star
That would make the day go down easy
Crucified in my sports car
I've got high hopes for things infamously.

And then there's love
So keep, keepin' you down
You'll find release in the big times

International rock star
That will make the pain go away
The last one standing at the bar
Is the dream that will have to do for today

And then there's love
So keep, keepin' you down
You'll find some peace in the big times

Well it's funny (until then until then until then)
That this is getting easy (I can see lots of types in my collection)

[Spoken]
How long are you going to keep me here?
I don't know, it depends.
On what? On my falling in love with you? Because if that's what you want then I'm going to be here till I die. Now go away. Go away! Take it over
