

The Maze

Stars

In the center of the maze
On a summer afternoon
I sat alone and waited
Until I saw the moon

And then the stars errupted
From the blackest sky I've seen
And I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream

I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream
I fell into a dream
I fell into it

In the center of the maze
You're a distant memory
And in every cul-de-sac
There burns an effigy

And then the stars collapsed
And they hit the distant hills
And the fires are burning still
The fires are burning still

They always will
They always will
They always will
They always will
They always will
They always will
They always will
They always will

I don't wanna find my way
I spit the secret room in two
I don't wanna find my way out
I wanna watch the moon with you
I don't wanna find my way
I spit the secret room in two
I don't wanna find my way out
I wanna watch the moon with you
I don't wanna find my way
I spit the secret in two
I don't wanna find my way out
I wanna watch the moon with you
