Blue Eyed Lady

Little Blue eyed lady How come you're all alone I've been asking No one seems to know To whom do you belong Little Blue eyed lady

The band are really moving Everyone is grooving around Little lady You're still sitting down Excuse me if you will Little Blue eyed lady

The party's nearly over Your eyes still read the same Are you looking For one who never came Are you a passing cloud Or a new found baby

Little new found baby How come you're all alone I've been asking No one seems to know Are you a passing cloud Little Blue eyed lady
