So Ends Another Life

In a world of education There's no time for compassion Life's a fire, never ending Bringing pain and then befriending

And like a fire that burns no light And drifts to Heaven, so ends another life Is there time to care, it's only fair but life goes on And on and on and on, 'til in the end you don't be long

So ends another life To let this world go on Don't cry for pity my friend You never gave none

There's a hunter with his gun Pointing upwards to the sun Thinks a bird can feel no pain If it can, it won't again

And like a fire that burns no light And drifts to Heaven, so ends another life Is there time to care, it's only fair but life goes on And on and on and on, 'til in the end you don't be long

So ends another life To let this world go on Don't cry for pity my friend You never gave none

So ends another life To let this world go on Don't cry for pity my friend You never gave none Status Quo
