

Turn Back The Clock

Steam Powered Giraffe

I see a smile, it's bright
As a dawn's break of light
Is it meant for me this time?
Can I keep it close
to warm me forever?

Time can make the world strange Folks you knew don't seem the same Time don't care
it beats you there
and take it all from you Don't you think
if every blink
is safe from all you knew?

I see a girl here
and she's smiling
Missing two front teeth
Ages three plus three Well she's a laughing
Her hair is golden Her toes are tapping to the robot band

I still hear her now, smiling
Her hair done up in bows
Her bright eyes twinkling
She hums a little song
for me
From the music box
given by mommy

Turn back the clock
Turn back the clock
Turn back the clock
For my love song

The autumns roll by A young lady takes the child's place Pig tailed freckled face
Well she's a working On rolling
While the world does change her smile stays the same

There is a woman with a man
Her hair is dyed black that smile, still came back After the curtains
she leaves a little box
A tiny dancer spins Music plays from within

Turn back the clock

Turn back the clock
Turn back the clock

A little girl sits
And she's laughing
She looks just like her golden curls
The smile's there
It's not the same smile Where'd my girl run to?
Will she be back soon?

I see her now, smiling
Come home, back to me
Oh, my little song
Where did she go?
Where did she go?
Where did she go?
Don't leave
Don't leave

Turn back the clock
Turn back the clock
Turn back the clock

Turn back the clock
Turn back the clock
Turn back the clock

For my love song
