

Never Left Your Side

Stellar Kart

So you feel another midnight on the way
Cant see the road ahead
Though youre wide awake
And all the voices in your head begin to say
Youre alone, youre alone
The suns still shining through the night
The stars still burn in the daylight
Sometimes you just cant trust your eyes
I never left your side
All that you can see is darkness flying by
No matter what you try
Feels like youre stuck in time
And all the good in life has left you far behind
Youre alone, so alone
The suns still shining through the night
The stars still burn in the daylight
Sometimes you just cant trust your eyes
If I ever look too far away
Im still closer than any breath you take
Sometimes you just cant trust your eyes
While the worlds turned around
Hold on to me and just believe
The suns still shining through the night
The stars still burn in the daylight
Sometimes you just cant trust your eyes
If I ever look too far away
Im still closer than any breath you take
Sometimes you just cant trust your eyes
