

Second Chances

Stellar Kart

No
No matter what you did
Or might do again
Following all the worthless trends
You know he's waiting patiently
From now until forever
Broken-hearted and confused
Feeling like you've been abused
The second chances never end
From now until forever
There will always be second chances
And you'll always be on you're first try
There will always be second chances
And you'll always be on you're first try
You try and you try
But you're never ahead of the game
And you're wondering why
You're on your face again
You feel like you've been left alone
You try and you try
But you're never ahead of the game
And you're wondering why
You're on your face again
You feel like you've been left alone
There will always be second chances
And you'll always be on you're first try
There will always be second chances
And you'll always be on you're first try
There will always be second chances
And you'll always be on you're first try
There will always be second chances
And you'll always be on you're first try
Forever
Forever
Forever
Forever
Forever.
