

She's Gone

stellastarr*

How much can you take, you lone soldier
She wont miss you for long
She's gone, she's gone, she's gone

How long will you stand, outside her window Spying on her new lover
She's gone, she's gone, she's gone

Don't dwell on the past, she wont remember Sympathetic sex is wrong
She's gone she's gone, she's gone

When you're lost inside her (trowel [?] I can't make it out here), and you need an answer You'll find out in the morning
She's gone, she's gone, she's gone

Ow yow, Ow yow, Ow yow, ya ow oh.

Now that I have everything that i wanted
You can leave now, I don't need you anymore you give all of your love and affection didn't need much to get with you out the door
