

I Go Numb

Stephen Bishop

On first impression, I found you too good to be true
You touched my cheek said, "You'll do"
I was shaking in my shoes

'Cause, I never thought this strange attraction
Would give me such a strong reaction
I look in your eyes and I get paralyzed

I go numb, I can't speak
Every time I look at you, my knees go weak
I wanna die inside, every time I look at you

In a world of white noise, you gotta stay cool
Can't lose your control and all the games I played
When I was a fool, now it's you I wanna hold

'Cause, I've waited for some inspiration
A woman of sophistication
But when I'm close to you I can't seem to move

I go numb, I can't speak
Every time I look at you, my knees go weak
I wanna die inside, every time I look at you

I asked the Moon above
Said, "Tell me if what I feel is real?
Or just an accident of love

'Cause, now I'm living in her world
And I really think, I'm falling for this girl

I go numb, I can't speak
Every time I look at you, my knees go weak
I wanna die inside, every time I look at you
