look in my pains. you wanna see my face

Wanna see my face? look in my pains. you see them pains from yesterday? look in my face. wanna see my face look in my pains whats up on the streets and this morning feels so close to the past for just yesterday we were left in the dark and the oppression of those chains still weighs on your and my brain Can you see what I'm saying? look in my pains. you see them pains from yesterday? look in my pains. You wanna see my face? look in my pains was i born free? was I born a slave? look in my pains. With the whip upon your mind so your mind leads your soul astray. You can see that today we are all modern slaves. Cause we've been thinking that slavery is just from them ancient days, but that's the puppet master's game! Can you see what I'm saying? look in my pains. you see them pains from yesterday? look in my pains. You wanna see my face? look in my pains. was I born free? was I born a slave? look in my pains. 000-000-0000-000-000-0000 0000h 000-000-0000-000-000-0000 0000h Look in my pains. you see them pains from yesterday? look in my face you wanna see my face? look in my pains was I born free? was I born a slave? look in my pains And this morning feels so close close to the past for still yet today we are slaves in our yards because oppression of those chains still weighs on my and your brain should I sing it again? look in my pains. you see them pains from yesterday?

look in my pains
was i born free?
are we all slaves?
look in my pains.
hey-yyyy yeah-yyyyy-yeaaa
Look in my pains
How far you come from yesterday?
look in my pains
