If only you read my mind
You'd see I was hurt inside
A thousand times I've told myself it's over (it's over)
But the story has just begun
And darling whats done is done
It's time to change and leave the past behind

Why should we know all the answers Or how the story ends (so baby)

Let's take a chance on a happy ending (Let's) turn the page and stop pretending The past can stop a heart from mending It's time to let go 'cos baby you know Some things are better best forgotten

And baby we can't pretend
In time the scars will mend
Please believe me theres a chance let's take it (let's take it)
And maybe at last we'll find
That love should be true not blind
You can't decieve a heart that's open wide

(And) even now it's not to late
To change the story's end (so baby)

Let's take a chance on a happy ending (Let's) turn the page and stop pretending The past can stop a heart from mending It's time to let go 'cos baby you know Some things are better best forgotten

The story has just begun Darlin' what's done is done It's time to leave the past behind

[Chorus to fade...]