

Too Weak To Resist

Steps

We stood before our friends and pledged eternal love
To have and to hold
We both meant every word and spoke of one above
Love could not grow cold

Then I found myself so many nights
With time my only friend
And I only saw it in your eyes
Too late to make amends
darling

Time can be a healer or time can divide
I never meant for anyone to you from my side
But I'm just a man (just a man)
And it comes down to this
I was just too weak to resist

If only I had known I'd caused you so much pain
I would not have strayed
And tho' I promise you I'll never fall again baby
I must lie in this bed I've made

And tho' I'm hurtin' you I swear it was
The last thing on my mind
And I found myself on my own
One too many times
darling

Time can be a healer or time can divide
I never meant for anyone to take you from my side
But I'm just a man (just a man)
And it comes down to this
I was just too weak to resist