

Black And Blue

Stereo Skyline

So I take step back this time though
I'm leaving you for good
But it hurts too much to say,
I never thought I'd need
But I also never thought I'd take the fall.

Everyone is screaming come down from the platform
That you think you stand so high
On your heart is black and blue,
Like you painted camouflage across my heart.

Well I know what I've been thinking,
But I know it's got me drinking.
Drinking to forget those nights I spent with you.
I give you my heart you spilled in two.
Nothing's new to watch me wait around for you
And I wait for this until the day I die.

Everyone is screaming come down from the platform
That you think you stand
So high on your heart is black and blue,
Like you painted camouflage across my heart.

You screaming out you screaming out
Why you're shocked you wear with that
Why shocked you didn't care just another
Line you scribbled down in your notebook
The only trace of you remains the scribbled marks
On my back sheet say I'm holding on holding on.

Everyone is screaming come down from the platform
That you think you stand
So high on your heart is black and blue,
Like you painted camouflage across my heart.

Everyone is screaming come down from the platform
That you think you stand
So high on your heart is black and blue,
Like you painted camouflage across my heart
