Suffer you little children Remain passive and fearful Suffer don't grow out of it Revel and let's celebrate The poor love of this poor world The sad love, the vampire Suffer you little children Remain passive and fearful Suffer don't grow out of it Revel and let's celebrate The poor love of this poor world The sad love, the vampire We who're young and beautiful We who can stand up and walk Our lives we will learn to control We who're young and beautiful Respond revolution when We hear the word suffering It's our lives we'll learn to control We who are young and beautiful Respond the word revolution When we hear the word suffering We who're young and beautiful We who can stand up and walk Our lives we'll learn to control We who're young and beautiful Respond revolution when We hear the word suffering