

Sunlight

Stereomud

Was something missing the walls were closing in and i tried to face them i tried to face my fears

It didn't matter to me
one more morning's missing

Cause I thought I'd never see it i thought I'd never see sunlight because I thought I'd never see it
i thought I'd never see sunlight

As shadows close in the sound of silence screaming invisible nothing invisible something's here

It didn't matter to me
one more morning's missing

Cause I thought I'd never see it
i thought I'd never see sunlight
because I thought I'd never see it
i thought I'd never see sunlight

I just prayed for light
sunlight
sunlight

It didn't matter to me

Cause I thought I'd never see it
i thought I'd never see sunlight
because I thought I'd never see it
i thought I'd never see sunlight

I said I thought I'd never see it sunlight (four times) i thought I'd never see it
i thought I'd never see sunlight
