

Cryin' in Your Beer

Stereophonics

You know I thought you woulda like to see
The yellow merry-go-round
I got the gear, got the car keys
I'll take you for a ride

We shoulda took it at the picture show
The ghost train wasn't right
Let down the window, get some air to breathe
You think you're gonna die

It's alright stop crying in your beer
It's alright the end is getting nearer
It's alright we soon be going home tonight
It's alright stop crying in your beer
It's alright the end is getting nearer
It's alright we soon be going home tonight

Drive round and round in the city streets
A helter skelter for free
Head spinning round like a Ferris wheel
Is what you mumble to me

We get a drink in the alley cat
You throw up under the tree
And then you laid down on the railroad tracks
Until I pissed on your feet

It's alright stop crying in your beer
It's alright the end is getting nearer
It's alright we soon be going home tonight
It's alright stop crying in your beer
It's alright the end is getting nearer
It's alright we soon be going home tonight

Not thinking straight in a shitty state
But butty listen to me
What you see and what's for real
Are not the same thankfully

You're sitting here and it's just the gear
That makes you wanna die
Look in my eyes, listen what I say
And give me back a smile

It's alright stop crying in your beer
It's alright the end is getting nearer
It's alright we soon be going home tonight
It's alright stop crying in your beer
It's alright the end is getting nearer
It's alright we soon be going home tonight
Tonight, tonight, tonight
