

I Just Wanted the Goods

Stereophonics

You step in the ring
And you feel that swing
And you need that pound
Then you hit the ground

I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods

You buy a diamond ring
It goes bling bling bling
You got a rabbit on your back
Then it's yakety yack

I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods

Where's your heart, man?
Where's your soul?
Where's your balls, man?
Where's the gold?
Where's your guts, man?
What d'you own?
What's it worth, man?
The seed is sown

Hear the bell ring ring
You don't swing to win
Seven, eight, nine, ten
You're knocked down again

I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods

You hear the telephone ring
Head's ring-a-ding-ding
But you need that gold
And you sold your soul

I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods
I just wanted the goods

Where's your heart, man?
Where's your soul?
Where's your balls, man?
Where's the gold?
Where's your guts, man?
What d'you know?
Did you ever feel the same about me?

I just wanted the goods, I just wanted the goods
Yeah, come on, tell me, baby, now
I just wanted the goods, I just wanted the goods
Yeah, come on, tell me, baby, now
I just wanted the goods, I just wanted the goods
Yeah, come on, tell me, baby, now
I just wanted the goods, I just wanted the goods
Yeah, come on and tell me, baby, now
Yeah, tell me now
Yeah, tell me now
Yeah, come on and tell me, tell me now
I just wanted the goods, I just wanted the goods
Yeah, come on and tell me, baby, now
