

Someone Else

Steve Angello

Started out in the middle of this mess
That you could see
All the pain that I hold inside my chest
As I spoke to you

You say you never wanted anything more than this
Now that you got it all, it's not enough
Oh, it was never enough for you

So should I take, take, take my love to someone else
Oh, should I take, take, take my love to someone else
Where do we go from here?
Where do we go now?
Where do we go from here?
Where do we go and go and go
So should I take, take, take my love to someone else
Oh, should I take, take, take my love to someone else
Where I want it
Where I want it
Oh, should I take, take, take my love to someone else

Now that you got it all, it's not enough
Oh, it was never enough for you

I could tell you were never at your best
That you could be
Always looking at the hole inside your chest
As I spoke to you

You say you never wanted anything more than this
Now that you got it all, it's not enough
Oh, it was never enough for you
Where do we go from here?
Where do we go now?
Where do we go from here?
Where do we go and go and go
You say you never wanted anything more than this
Now that you got it all, it's not enough
Oh, it was never enough for you

So should I take, take, take my love to someone else
Oh, should I take, take, take my love to someone else
Where I want it
Where I want it
Oh, should I take, take, take my love to someone else
