

My Heart Wants To Run

Steve Azar

There's a voice inside my head tellin' me it's time
To go
That I've done all I could do to hide what I don't Wanna know
But, with your tender kiss there's still
A tentativeness
That's got me movin' slow
And even though I'm walkin' out

My heart wants to run
My heart wants to run
My heart wants to run
All the way back to you

After only nine lonely giant steps I managed to Make it to my car
And drive off without once lookin' back to how Beautiful you are
You know all the space between love and hate
Really ain't that far
And must be is the reason why

My heart wants to run
My heart wants to run
My heart wants to run
All the way back to you

Well, I've gone as long as I could
I prayed for strength, and I've knocked on wood
It doesn't seem to do much good that I
Wished upon a star
And tore myself apart
All to stop my heart

My heart wants to run
My heart wants to run
My heart wants to run
All the way back to you

Yeah, all the way back to you
Oh, all the way back to you

Now I'm holdin' my breath, and countin' to ten
That ain't worked since God knows when
Goin' cold turkey, wearin' the patch
Swearin' I will never ever go back, no
Findin' comfort in a good ol' friend
Another night out, I'll be checkin' myself in
That's it, it's over and done
Even though I know my heart still wants to run
Straight back to you