

Love Will Find A Way

Steve Green

Love will find a way
To follow where you run
Love will cover you
And shield you from the sun
This will all be done
Just to heal you, to heal you
Love will lift the veil
You try to hide behind
Love will kiss your tears
And turn them into wine
This will all be done
To reveal you, reveal you

Love will take your shame
Love will lift your head
Love will take the blow
That was meant for you instead

Love will take your shame
Love will lift your head
Love will take the blow
That was meant for you instead

Love will never leave
No matter what you say
Love will look beyond
Your brokenness today
This will all be done
Just to name you,
This will all be done
To reclaim you, reclaim you

Love will take your shame
Love will lift your head
Love will take the blow
That was meant for you instead

Love will take your shame
Love will lift your head
Love will take the blow
That was meant for you instead

Love will find a way
To follow when you run
