Star of Sirius

Steve Hackett

Above the colour of amber stained evening An audience danced Led by a showering hand that brings water An audience danced Led by a showering hand that brings water To both sea and land Unlock the door of night Nebulous bright

Again renewed by the vessels of Isis You're ready to fly Although the journey is still far from ended You gaze at the sky Above the cloudless night Nebulous bright

He who knows love knows who you are Worlds you may find lit by a star

He who knows love knows who you are Worlds you may find lit by a star

Again renewed by the vessels of Isis You're ready to fly

He who knows love knows who you are Worlds you may find lit by a star...
