

Pain In My Temples

Steve Kilbey

Dionysus and apollo are up in the sky
Their brand of contradiction makes me want to cry
For four thousand years I've been accruing my bones
Looking for a God who won't leave me alone

It's not easy to find
Should put it right out of my mind
Boys I must have been blind
It's the pain in my temples